Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 15-27 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,698,608. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it would have been obvious to eliminate the purge valve and the opening for the purge valve in the liner. It would have been obvious to make the components translucent, transparent, or opaque depending upon the desires of the user.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Regarding claim 16, in line 11 of the claim it appears that applicant is trying to claim that the latch face extends in front of the latch face. It is not clear what is being claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 15 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Myers et al (US 4,743,038). Regarding claim 15, as it is best understood, see 1-3, where the claimed structure is shown. The latch extends in front of the case. Regarding claim 21, see the Fig. 1, where the purge valve is shown. The liner has an opening to allow for purging.

Claims 18, 25, and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gueret (US 6,186,152). Regarding claim 18, see Fig. 3, the legs disposed in the curved surface will get slightly closer together when the lid is closed. Moreover, as the lid is closed to compress the seal the legs will slightly thicker and therefore closer together. Regarding claims 25 and 26, see the Figs. 13-15, where the structure is shown.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 19 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Myers et al (US 4,743,038). Regarding claims 19 and 23, Myers et al does not teach the claimed structure. Official notice is taken that it is well known to provide this structure in cases. It would have been obvious to provide the claimed structure to make the contents visible without opening the case.

Claims 20, 24, and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gueret (US 6,186,152). Regarding claims 20 and 24, Gueret does not teach the claimed structure. Official notice is taken that it is well known to provide this structure in cases. It would have been obvious to provide the claimed structure to make the contents visible without opening the case. Regarding claim 27, official notice is taken that it is well known to provide cases with latches of the claimed type. It would have been obvious to provide this structure to provide a container that is easy to open.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 16 and 17 are allowed.

Claim 22 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Marsh is cited for teaching the seal structure seen in Figs. 6 and 7.
